To Apply for Benefits

An application must be made each time you want to start receiving benefits. All claims based on work done in Wisconsin are filed either on the Internet or by telephone, even if you now live in another state.

To complete your application you will need:

- ☐ Your Social Security Number.
- ☐ A Personal Identification Number (PIN). Your PIN is a 4-digit number you make up before you apply and it helps to identify you. The same PIN must be used for all on-line and telephone unemployment services. Choose a PIN you will remember. If you forget your PIN or want to change it, call one of the initial claim application telephone numbers on the next page and press 4.

Do not tell your PIN to anyone!

- ☐ Your Wisconsin Driver's License Number, if you have one.
- ☐ The names of everyone for whom you worked in the past 18 months. For each employer you will also need a full address (including zip code), a telephone number, the reason you are no longer working there, and your first and last dates of work.
- ☐ Your Alien Registration Number, if you are not a U.S. citizen.
- ☐ The name and local number of your union hall, if you are a union member.

Apply during these times:

Use the same Internet address or telephone numbers to reapply:

You must reapply:

- Each time you stop filing for weekly benefits and want to begin again.
- When you wait too long (more than 14 days) to file a claim for a weekly benefit check for any week and the system tells you there are no weeks to claim.

Remember... Your claim begins the week you apply or reapply. To avoid any loss of benefits, apply the first week you are unemployed. Do not wait until the week is over!

Why we need your Social Security number:

The federal Social Security Act requires you to give us your social security number. It will be used to verify your identity and to determine your eligibility. If you do not provide your social security number, we cannot take your claim.

No touch-tone phone line?

If you do not have a touch-tone telephone line but you do have a touch-tone telephone with a “tone-to-pulse” switch, set the switch to “pulse” before you call. As soon as your call is answered, change the switch to “tone” to complete your call. If you must use a rotary phone, dial the number and one of our staff will help you.

Qualifying for benefits:

Base Period

The wages paid during your base period are used to determine if you qualify for UI benefits and how much you can be paid if you do qualify. Your base period is the first four of the last five completed calendar quarters before you file your initial claim application. If you do not have enough wages to qualify using this base period, we will use the four most recently completed quarters as your base period.

Weekly Benefit Rate

Your weekly benefit rate is equal to 4% of the wages paid during the quarter in your base period with the highest wages. The lowest weekly benefit rate is $51 ($53 as of 01/07/07) and the highest weekly benefit rate is $341 ($355 as of 01/07/07).

Qualifying Wages

You must have been paid wages from covered employment in at least two quarters of your base period. You need:

- A total of at least $1,530 ($1,590 as of 01/07/07) in the 4 quarters of your base period;
- At least $1,275 ($1,325 as of 01/07/07) in the base period quarter with the highest earnings;
- A total of at least $204 ($212 as of 01/07/07) in the 3 base period quarters with the lowest earnings; and
- If you were paid benefits in a prior benefit year which has ended, you must have worked since the beginning of that benefit year and earned at least 8 times the weekly benefit rate of that claim.

Maximum Benefit Amount

The total amount of benefits you can be paid during your 52-week benefit year is called your maximum benefit amount and is equal to:

- 26 times your weekly benefit rate; or
- 40% of your total covered base period wages, whichever is less.
